

Communication Between Home and School

In keeping with our mission to unite home and church with school, communication between parents and teachers is of paramount importance. Should a concern arise that requires one-on-one attention, the parent(s) or teacher should take the matter quickly and respectfully to the other. Each has the prerogative of requesting an administrator's presence in conferences concerning students.

Our community is called to pray for each other, go to each other in love when dissensions or concerns arise, and hold each other accountable for the implications of their attitudes and conduct. (Matthew 18: 15-17)

No conduct code can hope to address every infraction that might occur. These regulations are not intended to be exhaustive but to provide general guidelines for acceptable behavior.
